International English Language Testing System

Information for candidates

March 2009

What is IELTS?

IELTS, the International English Language Testing System, is designed to assess the language ability of candidates who need to study or work where English is the language of communication.

IELTS is jointly managed by University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations (Cambridge ESOL), British Council and IDP: IELTS Australia. IELTS conforms to the highest international standards of language assessment. It covers the four language skills – listening, reading, writing and speaking.

IELTS is recognised by universities and employers in many countries, including Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the UK and the USA. It is also recognised by professional bodies, immigration authorities and other government agencies. Please refer to a full list of recognising organisations on the IELTS website www.ielts.org

IELTS is not recommended for candidates under the age of 16.

Test Administration

IELTS tests are administered at centres throughout the world – there are more than 500 centres, in over 125 countries. A full list of centres is available on the IELTS website www.ielts.org

IELTS is available up to four times in a month. Please contact the relevant centre for exact test dates. Results will be produced 13 days after the test.

The candidate will only receive one copy of their test result and replacement copies will not be provided. Additional copies can be sent directly to receiving organisations and institutions by test centres. Registered organisations can receive test results electronically through the E Downloads service.

There are no restrictions on candidates re-taking the test.

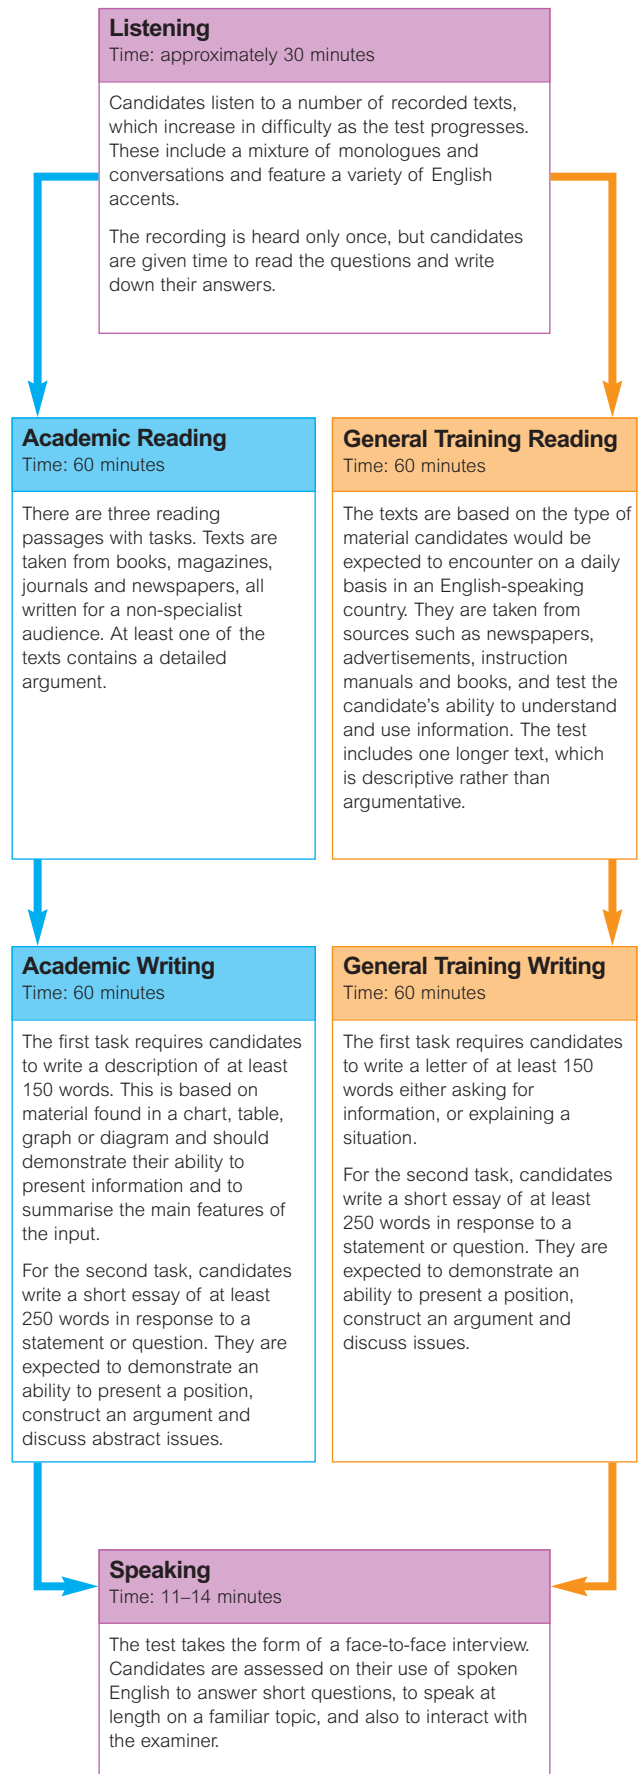

Academic and General Training

IELTS is available in two formats – Academic and General Training.

The Academic Module assesses whether a candidate is ready to study or train in the medium of English at an undergraduate or postgraduate level. Admission to undergraduate and postgraduate courses should be based on the results of this module.

The General Training Module emphasises language skills in broad social and workplace contexts. It is suitable for candidates who are going to migrate to an English-speaking country, for example, to Australia, Canada, New Zealand or the UK. It is also suitable for candidates planning to undertake work experience or training programmes not at degree level, or to complete their secondary education. The General Training Module is not designed to test the full range of formal language skills required for academic purposes.

If in doubt about which module to take, contact the organisation to which you are applying for their requirements.

Test Format

Candidates are tested in listening, reading, writing and speaking. All candidates take the same Listening and Speaking tests. There is a choice of Reading and Writing tests – Academic or General Training. It is the responsibility of the candidate to tell the Administrator which version, Academic or General Training, they need to take.

The tests are designed to cover the full range of ability from non-user to expert user.

The first three tests – Listening, Reading and Writing – must be completed in one day. No break is given between the three tests. The Speaking test may be taken, at the discretion of the test centre, in the period seven days before or after the other three tests.

Preparing for the Test

It is not necessary to attend a preparation course but it is, of course, a good idea to prepare thoroughly for the test.

Official Practice Materials are available from test centres, or directly from Cambridge ESOL or IDP:IELTS Australia. This includes a full practice test with an answer key, a CD of the Listening test and three sample Speaking tests so that candidates can get some idea of their level and familiarise themselves with the format of the test.

There is also a wide range of published preparation materials.

IELTS Test Results

Results will be produced 13 days after the test. At some centres candidates may collect their results on the 13th day; at others results are mailed on the 13th day.

Test centres are not permitted to give results over the phone or by fax or email. Replacement Test Report Forms are not provided in case of loss.

A score is reported for each of the tests. The individual test scores are then calculated to produce an Overall Band Score. Overall Band Scores are reported in whole and half bands for each test. Further information on score processing and interpretation is available on the website www.ielts.org

The IELTS tests have been designed to reflect accurately the candidate's abilities to deal with the English language. The design of the test makes it statistically unlikely that there will be a great variation in the test scores. In order to ensure that a candidate's IELTS results genuinely reflect that candidate's English language abilities, where there are exceptionally unusual patterns of test scores the tests will be marked again, and the IELTS Test Partners may ask the candidate to re-take some or all of the tests. The candidate will not be charged for any such re-takes and the candidate will not be issued with their result until after the re-take.

Test Report Form

The Test Report Form includes a large number of security features, and the authenticity of any Test Report Form can be verified through the online verification service. See www.ielts.org for further details. Cambridge ESOL, British Council and IDP:IELTS Australia reserve the right to cancel any IELTS Test Report Form in the event of any attempt to tamper with or misuse the information it contains.

The IELTS Test Partners recommend that Receiving Organisations do not accept a Test Report Form that is more than two years old. For this reason, Test Report Forms will not be issued for tests taken more than two years ago. A Receiving Organisation may choose to accept an older Test Report Form if a candidate can provide evidence that they have actively maintained or tried to improve their English language proficiency since doing the test. However, this is the decision of the Receiving Organisation, not the IELTS Test Partners. The IELTS Test Partners cannot provide any letters or references endorsing a candidate's level of English.

Tests

Each candidate takes four tests, one in each of the four skills – listening, reading, writing and speaking.

>>> Listening

The Listening test takes around 30 minutes. There are 40 questions and four sections. The Listening test is recorded on a CD and is played ONCE only.

During the test, time is given for candidates to read the questions and write down and then check their answers. Answers are written on the question paper as candidates listen. When the recording ends, 10 minutes are allowed for candidates to transfer their answers to an answer sheet.

The first two sections are concerned with social needs. There is a conversation between two speakers and then a monologue.

The final two sections are concerned with situations related more closely to educational or training contexts. There is a conversation between up to four people and then a further monologue.

A range of native-speaker English accents are used in the recordings which reflects the international usage of IELTS.

>>> Reading

The Reading test takes 60 minutes. There are 40 questions, based on three reading passages with a total of 2,000 to 2,750 words. Both the Academic Reading and General Training Reading tests have the same format.

All answers must be entered on an answer sheet during the 60-minute test. No extra time is allowed for transferring answers.

Academic Reading

Texts are taken from magazines, journals, books, and newspapers. Texts have been written for a non-specialist audience.

At least one text contains detailed logical argument. Texts may contain non-verbal materials such as diagrams, graphs or illustrations. If texts contain technical terms then a simple glossary is provided.

General Training Reading

The first section, 'social survival', contains texts relevant to basic linguistic survival in English with tasks mainly about retrieving and providing general factual information.

'Workplace survival', the second section, focuses on the workplace context, for example, applying for jobs, company policies, pay and conditions, workplace facilities, staff development and training.

The third section, 'general reading', involves reading more extended prose with a more complex structure but with the emphasis on descriptive and instructive rather than argumentative texts, in a general context relevant to the wide range of candidates involved.

>>> Writing

The Writing test takes 60 minutes. There are two tasks to complete. It is suggested that about 20 minutes is spent on Task 1 which requires candidates to write at least 150 words. Task 2 requires at least 250 words and should take about 40 minutes.

Answers must be given on the answer sheet and must be written in full. Notes or bullet points in whole or in part are not acceptable as answers. Candidates should note that scripts under the required minimum word limit will be penalised.

Academic Writing

In Task 1 candidates are asked to describe some information (graph/table/chart/diagram), and to present the description in their own words. They may be asked to describe and explain data, describe the stages of a process, how something works or describe an object or event.

In Task 2 candidates are presented with a point of view or argument or problem.

Candidates need to demonstrate their ability to respond appropriately in terms of content, vocabulary and the organisation of ideas. Appropriate responses are descriptions/summaries (Task 1) and short essays (Task 2) and these should be formal in style.

General Training Writing

In Task 1 candidates are asked to respond to a given problem with a letter requesting information or explaining a situation.

In Task 2 candidates are presented with a point of view or argument or problem.

Candidates need to demonstrate their ability to respond appropriately in terms of content, vocabulary and the organisation of ideas. Appropriate responses are personal, semi-formal or formal correspondence (Task 1) and short essays (Task 2). In General Training Writing Task 2 a slightly more personal response is more acceptable than in Academic Writing Task 2.

>>> Speaking

The Speaking test takes between 11 and 14 minutes and consists of an oral interview between the candidate and an examiner. All Speaking tests are recorded.

In Part 1 candidates answer general questions about themselves, their homes/families, their jobs/studies, their interests, and a range of familiar topic areas. This part lasts between 4 and 5 minutes.

In Part 2 the candidate is given a verbal prompt on a card and is asked to talk on a particular topic. The candidate has 1 minute to prepare before speaking at length for up to 2 minutes. The examiner then asks 1 or 2 rounding-off questions.

In Part 3 the examiner and candidate engage in a discussion of more abstract issues and concepts which are thematically linked to the topic prompt in Part 2. The discussion lasts between 4 and 5 minutes.

Frequently asked Questions

What help is available if you have special needs?

Test centres make every effort to cater for candidates with special needs, to enable them to best understand questions and tasks and to give their answers. It is our aim for the language level of all candidates to be assessed fairly and objectively. If you require a modified version of the test, e.g. Braille, you must give the test centre three months' notice. This notice period is necessary for the modified test version to be prepared. If your circumstances require special administrative arrangements only to be made, e.g. extra time, you must give the test centre six weeks' notice. Full details of these arrangements are given on the IELTS website www.ielts.org

What happens if you want to postpone or cancel your test?

Candidates who request a postponement or cancellation of their test within 5 weeks of the test date will be charged the full fee unless they are able to provide appropriate medical evidence to support their request. Medical evidence must be provided no later than 5 days after the test date. An administrative fee may be deducted from any refund.

What happens if you are absent on the day of the test without giving prior notice?

Candidates will lose their full test fee unless they are able to provide appropriate medical evidence to the centre to explain their absence. Medical evidence must be provided no later than 5 days after the test date. Refunds will only be provided for serious illness and an administrative fee may be deducted from any refund.

What happens if you do not transfer your Listening or Reading answers to the Listening/Reading answer sheet before the end of the test?

Candidates are reminded during the test to transfer their answers to the answer sheet. In the Listening test 10 minutes is allocated specifically for this purpose. In the Reading test candidates may transfer their answers at any time during the one hour test period. If candidates do not transfer their answers during the test they will not be given any extra time to do so. Responses provided on the question papers cannot be considered for marking purposes.

What can you do if you are unhappy with your results?

Candidates may apply for a re-mark (Enquiry on Results) at the centre where they took the test. This must be done within six weeks of the test date. The candidate can choose which tests are re-marked. There is a fee for this service which will be refunded should the score on any test be increased. An Enquiry on Results can take up to six weeks to complete.

How strictly is IELTS marked?

Candidates should take care when writing answers on the Listening and Reading answer sheets as incorrect spelling and grammar are penalised. Both UK and US varieties of spelling are acceptable.

If candidates are asked to write an answer using a certain number of words and/or (a) number(s), they will be penalised if they exceed this requirement. For example, if a question specifies an answer using NO MORE THAN THREE WORDS and the correct answer is 'black leather coat', the answer 'coat of black leather' is incorrect.

In questions where candidates are expected to complete a gap, candidates should only transfer the necessary missing word(s) onto the answer sheet. For example, if a candidate has to complete 'in the ' and the correct answer is 'morning' the answer 'in the morning' would be incorrect.

Candidates should read and follow the instructions and questions very carefully. In the Listening test especially, care also should be taken when transferring answers onto the answer sheet.

Transferring Answers to the Answer Sheet

Candidates are required to transfer their answers to an answer sheet for the Listening, Academic Reading and General Training Reading tests. The answer sheet is double sided; one side for Listening and the other side for Reading. During the Listening test candidates write their answers on the question paper as they listen and at the end of the test are given 10 minutes to transfer the answers to the answer sheet. In the Reading test candidates are required to write their answers on the answer sheet during the time allowed for the test. No extra time is allowed for transfer. After marking at the centre all answer sheets are returned to Cambridge ESOL for analysis.

An example of a completed Listening answer sheet is given below for guidance. It is important that candidates complete their personal details at the top of the page and obey the instructions for transfer of answers. Please note the advice given below for completion of the answer sheet.
