PHILISOPHY:

As the director Jill Arcaro puts it, "we do EDU-travel: all our activities offer interesting possibilities for people who are looking for experiential learning programs which mix traditional touristic activities (culture and entertainment) with learning in an economical way. As an educational program the internships are unpaid but many offer unpromised perks such as transportation passes, meals and stipends. We are not an employment agency but our posts are often a stepping stone to building a career and a way to ease oneself into living abroad".

METHODOLOGY:

- growing data base of contacts
- individual approach to prospecting a profile internship for every intern to make an 'a la carte' placement
- efficiency within the scope of three chosen areas of interest
- we guarantee you the internship, or we return your deposit
