

The Centre of Excellence in Behavioural and Neural Sciences Conference

30th November 2016

Erinevate Tubade Klubi, IV floor, Telliskivi 60-A1, Tallinn

The Centre of Excellence in Behavioural and Neural Sciences (KNT) invites you to the first conference of interdisciplinary research on behavioural sciences in cooperation with psychology, neurosciences and the natural sciences.

Schedule

11.30 – 11.50 Welcome snacks

11.50 – 12.00 Ruth Shimmo, Head of the Centre – Welcome words

12.00 – 12.30 Jaanus Harro – Animals, behavioural strategies and neurochemistry: What we have accomplished, what we intend to do, and why?

12.30 – 13.00 Tiiu Koff, Kristiina Kompus, Tobias Lay, Paul Seitlinger – The development of methods for studying psychophysiological reactions in natural and urban environments

13.00 – 13:30 Kairi Tammoja – Study of the molecular component of Parkinson's Disease etiopathogenesis and development of life quality assessment of the patient and their family

13.30 – 14.30 Lunch

14.30 – 15.00 Kristjan Port – Why should I care about muscles?

15.00 – 15.30 Indrek Rannama ja Kert Martma - An overview of the methodical possibilities for the analysis of human motion and performance

15.30 – 16.00 Kristjan Kask – The relationship of cognitive control and eyewitness identification ability of multiple perpetrators

16.00 Ending Words

Language of the conference is English

Please register by 21st November.

Contact: Liisa Puusepp, Research Coordinator, liisa.puusepp@tlu.ee