

Tallinn University Requirements and Procedure for the Admission to Degree Studies

The Regulation shall be established pursuant to Subsection 1 of Section 13 of Higher Education Act, Clause 2 of Subsection 2 of Section 9 of TU Statutes, and Subsection 2 of Section 3 of TU Study Regulations.

Chapter 1 General Provisions

§ 1. Scope of application of the Procedure

- (1) The Procedure regulates admission to Tallinn University (hereinafter the University) study programmes of professional higher education, Bachelor's studies, Bachelor's and Master's integrated study programmes (hereinafter the first level of higher education), Master's studies (hereinafter the second level of higher education) and Doctoral studies (hereinafter the third level of higher education).
- (2) The Procedure shall be applied to all persons applying to degree studies at the University, i.e. student candidates. An international student candidate is a student candidate who does not have Estonian citizenship, long-term residence permit or the right of permanent residence.

§ 2. General principles of admission

- (1) Admission to the first and second level of higher education shall be organised once a year by way of public competition; under justified circumstances, twice a year. Admission to the third level of higher education can be organised more than once a year. The University may fill the student place on the third level of higher education without announcing public competition in case, within the framework of studies, the person starts work outside the University and has concluded a contract for completing the study and research plan; or in case the person has been admitted to University under an international cooperation agreement. [Amended 04.04.2022]
- (2) The admission periods and schedule shall be established by the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, in the Academic Calendar. [Amended 15.11.2021]
- (3) The University Senate shall establish the list of courses open for the academic year (with the exception of Clause 4 of Subsection 5 of this Section), which shall contain the title of the study programmes, titles and requirements of the competition, admission requirements, admission threshold, number of student places, if relevant, and the admission period. [Amended 23.11.2020]
- (4) One or more competitions shall be announced for each study programme during the admission period, depending on the form, place of studies, the specificity of the study programme or the specificity of research related to the student place. An additional competition can be announced for a study programme in case the student places have not been filled in the expected amount during the initial competition. [Amended 04.04.2022]

(5) Competitions for the study programme shall be announced:

1) on the first and second level of higher education, by the Senate no later than 30 days prior to the relevant admission period;

2) on the third level of higher education, by the Senate for student places financed from the state activity support no later than 30 days prior to the relevant admission period;

3) on the third level of higher education, by the Senate for student places financed by the University no later than two weeks prior to the relevant admission period;

4) on the third level of higher education, by the Vice-Rector responsible for Doctoral studies, appointed by the Rector, for target financed student places no later than two weeks prior to the relevant admission period;

5) in case of additional competitions announced for study programmes referred to in Clauses 1-4 of this Section, no later than two weeks prior to their beginning. [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

(6) Application is organised through online admission information systems www.sais.ee (hereinafter SAIS) and www.estonia.dreamapply.com (hereinafter DreamApply).

(7) Compliance with the admission requirements shall be calculated in points. The maximum score is 100. If the admission exams or parts thereof consist of several parts, each part shall be assigned a portion from the maximum admission result.

(8) Admission threshold is the minimum score of admission results, the completion of which shall be the prerequisite for admission to the University.

(9) The University shall have the right to terminate the admission procedure of a student candidate or cancel the decision as regards admission to the University. The decision concerning the termination of the admission procedure shall be made by the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, on the proposal of the academic unit or of the admission specialist of the University. The cancellation of the decision as regards admission to the University shall be decided by the Admission Committee on the proposal of the academic unit or of the admission specialist of the University. The procedure can be terminated or the acceptance decision cancelled if [Amended 15.11.2021]:

1) it is detected that the student candidate has committed an essentially indecent act during the admission procedure (including the admission exam). The concept of an essentially indecent act shall be based on Subsections 8 and 9 of Section 30 of TU Study Regulations; [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

2) there is reason to believe that the international student candidate's purpose to come to Estonia is not related to studies at the university and/or the candidate lacks sufficient means of subsistence and/or the candidate may pose a risk to public safety, state security, international relations or public health. [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

3) it is found that the level of education or qualification of the student candidate does not enable access to the desired level of higher education. [Entry into force 15.11.2021]

(9¹) The University shall not be held responsible for any possible material and non-material damage arising from the cancellation of the acceptance decision. [Entry into force 15.11.2021]

(10) Issues related to admission not regulated by this Procedure shall be resolved by the Admission Committee represented by delegates from all academic units and the Student Union, headed by the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector. The Rector shall approve the membership of the Admission Committee. [Amended 15.11.2021]

Chapter 2

Admission requirements

§ 3. Requirements for the admission to study programmes on the first level of higher education

(1) Persons who have been granted a certificate of upper secondary education or a corresponding qualification and who meet the study programme specific requirements for commencing studies may apply for admission to the first level of higher education. Persons who have finished an International Baccalaureate Organization (IBO) School may apply in case they have graduated with a diploma.

(1¹) The University shall have the right not to admit international student candidates who are minors at the time of matriculation. [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

(2) Admission is threshold-based and/or is based on a ranking list or special conditions.

(3) Admission results shall be based on the results of admission exams, i.e. state exams and/or speciality-specific admission exams.

(4) In order to apply, the minimum result of the state exam required for admission shall be no less than 40 points.

(5) Persons who have graduated with a diploma from a European School or an IBO School shall apply 100% with the speciality-specific admission exam result. [Amended 23.11.2020]

(6) A C1 level exam of Estonian (as a second language) may be used when applying under the conditions established in Annex 2 of this document.

(7) Admission results of student applicants who have not taken state exams required for admission are set at 100% from the speciality-specific admission exam result when applying.

(8) The University shall have the right to refuse admission to student candidates for study programmes on the first level of higher education if the results of their education acquired in a foreign country on the previous level make up less than 60% of the required maximum volume.

(9) Under special conditions, student candidates shall be admitted to the study programmes on the first level of higher education with Estonian as the language of instruction without admission exams (except for the study programmes of Integrated Arts, Music and Multimedia, Choreography, Film Art, Physical Education, Recreation Management and Psychology), provided that they:

1) have received at least 90 points in the state exam of the Estonian or Estonian as a second language; have received at least 74 points in the state mathematics exam (passed prior to 2014) or have received at least 74 points in the extensive mathematics exam from the year 2014 onwards, at least 90 points in the narrow mathematics exam from the year 2014 onwards. Persons who have not passed a state mathematics exam cannot apply under special conditions to study programmes on the first level of higher education with Estonian as the language of instruction, except in cases established in Clauses 2-5 of Subsection 1 of this Section;

2) have represented Estonia on upper secondary school level at international competitions (olympiads) under conditions established in Annex 1;

3) have participated in the final round of national competitions (olympiads) at the 11th or 12th grade level and achieved results as established in Annex 1;

4) being 11th or 12th grade students, have successfully participated in national competitions listed in Annex 1 and achieved results established accordingly;

5) apply with an IBO diploma and their total results in the final exams of the main subject are at least 19 points and at least 15 points in secondary subjects.

(10) Student candidates who have been awarded a gold medal upon graduation from an upper secondary school shall receive five additional competition points in applying to the study programmes on the first level of higher education. The same condition shall apply to candidates with an IBO diploma whose total score of final exams is at least 28 points. The maximum result combined with the additional points shall be 100.

(11) Under special conditions, student candidates shall be admitted to the study programmes on the first level of higher education with Estonian as the language of instruction provided they have passed the admission threshold and their degree of disability has been determined “severe” or “profound” according to the “Social Benefits for Disabled Persons Act” (RT I 1999, 16, 273) and who, at the same time, have physical limitations, limitations in accessing information, and educational special needs due to mobility, visual or hearing impairment.

§ 4. Requirements for the admission to study programmes on the second level of higher education

(1) Persons who have been awarded a Bachelor’s degree or a corresponding qualification and who meet the study programme specific requirements for commencing studies may apply for admission to the second level of higher education.

(2) Student candidates whose prior education is not in compliance with the professional qualification referred to in requirements for commencing studies, established in the study programme, may apply for recognition of prior learning (hereinafter RPL) in order to fulfil the admission requirements pursuant to Section 23 of TU Study Regulations no later than one month prior to the period of submitting the admission application. [Amended 15.11.2021]

(3) Admission is threshold-based and/or is based on a ranking list or special conditions.

(4) Admission results shall be based on the results of speciality-specific admission exam result.

(5) The University shall have the right to refuse admission to student candidates for study programmes on the second level of higher education if the results of their education acquired in a foreign country on the previous level make up less than 60% of the required maximum volume.

(6) Under special conditions, student candidates shall be admitted to the study programmes on the second level of higher education with Estonian as the language of instruction provided they have passed the admission threshold and their degree of disability has been determined “severe” or “profound” according to the “Social Benefits for Disabled Persons Act” (RT I 1999, 16, 273) and who, at the same time, have physical limitations, limitations in accessing information, and educational special needs due to mobility, visual or hearing impairment.

§ 5. Requirements for the admission to study programmes on the third level of higher education

(1) Persons who have been awarded a Master’s degree or a corresponding qualification and who meet the study programme specific requirements for commencing studies may apply for admission to the third level of higher education.

(2) Student candidates whose prior education is not in compliance with the professional qualification referred to in requirements for commencing studies, established in the study programme, may apply for recognition of prior learning (hereinafter RPL) in order to fulfil the admission requirements pursuant to Section 23 of TU Study Regulations no later than one month prior to the period of submitting the admission application. [Amended 15.11.2021]

- (3) Admission is based on the ranking list formed on the basis of competition results or across competitions, in accordance with the requirements established for creating student places. [Amended 04.04.2022]
- (4) Admission results shall be based on the results of speciality-specific admission exam results.
- (5) The University shall have the right to refuse admission to student candidates for study programmes on the third level of higher education if the results of their education acquired in a foreign country on the previous level make up less than 60% of the required maximum volume.

§ 6. Minimum requirements for the proficiency level of the language of instruction

- (1) The admission requirement of student candidates for study programmes with Estonian as the language of instruction shall be the proficiency of Estonian language that corresponds to at least B1 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages provided that the language of instruction of the student candidate on previous finished level or stage of education was not Estonian.
- (2) The speciality-specific admission exam committee shall have the right to ask the person who is applying for a study programme with Estonian as the language of instruction and whose Estonian language proficiency maybe insufficient for studies to take an Estonian language proficiency test.
- (3) In order to achieve the learning outcomes, the admission requirement of student candidates for study programmes on the second level of higher education with Estonian as the language of instruction shall be the proficiency of a second language that corresponds to at least A2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
- (4) During admission to the second level of higher education the speciality-specific admission exam committee shall have the right to check the proficiency of the second language necessary for achieving the learning outcomes.
- (5) The admission requirement of student candidates for study programmes instructed in a foreign language shall be the proficiency of the language of instruction that corresponds to at least B2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages at the time of commencing studies.
- (6) Language requirements and the procedure for the verification thereof shall be established by member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector. [Amended 15.11.2021]

(13) When sending documents, student candidates shall consider country-specific requirements published on the website of Tallinn University in case the country-specific requirements apply to the country where the candidates have acquired their education.

(14) For the purpose of checking the application and the documents, the University shall have the right to use the TU Study Information System, Estonian Education Information System, database of International Baccalaureate Information System, make queries to educational and other institutions and send documents proving education for assessment of qualification to Estonian ENIC/NARIC Centre.

(15) Copies and/or notarised/certified copies and/or notarised/certified translations of submitted documents shall not be returned to the candidate.

§ 9. Speciality-specific admission exams

(1) The content and the organisation of speciality-specific admission exams shall be determined by the academic units, the description of the content shall be published on the website of Tallinn University no later than one month prior to the submission of applications.

(2) The membership of the speciality-specific admission exam committee shall be approved by the head of the academic unit administering the study programme by his/her order. [Amended 23.11.2020]

(3) Speciality-specific admission exams take place according to the time schedule compiled on the basis of the proposals of the academic units. The time schedule shall be published on the website of Tallinn University no later 30 days prior to the period of submission of applications. Speciality-specific admission exams of international student candidates applying for studies on the first and second level of higher education shall take place at least once a month during the admission period, starting from the second month of the admission period. If the amount of international student candidates per one examination day exceeds the capability of the committee to test the candidates, the academic unit shall set a date for an additional exam during the week initially announced for the exam. [Amended 23.11.2020]

(4) Academic units shall have the right to organise preliminary admission, which enables the unit to conduct speciality-specific admission exams additionally at times other than the announced times of speciality-specific admission exams. The academic unit shall determine and publish the times of preliminary admission exams on the website of Tallinn University.

(5) The University shall be obliged to admit the candidates who have submitted the application during preliminary admission and have passed the admission threshold provided that the candidates submit the application during the period of submission of applications and fulfil other requirements established in requirements for the admission to the study programme.

(6) In order to sit for a speciality-specific admission exam, the student candidates shall present a personal identification document. In case of exams conducted via video bridge, the University shall, for the purpose of identifying the student, have the right to require the candidate to show the personal identification document and make a screenshot of the candidate together with the identification document, request the use of personal identification programs or record the exam. [Amended 15.11.2021]

(7) Speciality-specific admission exams shall include a written part.

(8) Speciality-specific admission exam may consist of several parts, the descriptions and the proportions of the total result of speciality-specific admission exam shall be published on the website of Tallinn University. The academic unit shall have the right not to allow the student candidate to take the next part of the exam in case the student candidate has failed to take the previous part of the exam or has received a negative result for it.

(9) Speciality-specific admission exams are assessed according to the following assessment system:

1) a positive admission exam result for the study programmes on the first level of higher education is a minimum of 51 points on a 100-point scale;

2) a positive admission exam result for the study programmes on the second level of higher education is between 70 and 100 points;

3) a positive admission exam result for the study programmes on the third level of higher education is between 75 and 100 points.

(10) Student candidates shall have the right to know the points received for each admission exam part by submitting a relevant application to the speciality-specific admission exam committee within three calendar days as of the day the admission exam results are published.

(11) Student candidates applying for Master's or Doctoral studies who have submitted a thesis research plan for speciality-specific admission exam shall have the right to receive concise feedback based on the assessment criteria by submitting a relevant application to the speciality-specific admission exam committee within three calendar days as of the day the admission exam results are published.

- (12) Speciality-specific admission exam papers shall not be returned to the candidates.
- (13) On justified occasions, candidates with physical or psycho-social special needs shall be entitled to adjustments to be able to pass speciality-specific admission exams where the absence of adjustments would, due to their special need, put the candidates at a disadvantage during the exam as compared to other candidates. In order to apply for adjustments to be made due to the candidates' special need, the candidates shall have to submit to the admission exam committee a written application accompanied by the document proving the special need no later than by deadline established in the Academic Calendar of Tallinn University for submitting applications.

§ 10. Filling the student places

- (1)
- (2) In case of equal admission results:
- 1) for studies on the first level of higher education, the grade of speciality-specific admission exam shall be considered first; thereafter the result of the state exam selected by the academic unit; and the average grade of the certificate of general secondary education shall be considered last;
- 2) for studies on the second and third level of higher education, the weighted average grade of studies completed on the previous level of education shall be considered.
- (3) Initially, up to 50% of the number of student places allocated to the study programme that exceed five student places are filled with the candidates applying under the special conditions provided in Clause 1 of Subsection 9 of Section 3. If the number of candidates exceeds the number of student places, additional student places shall be created.
- (4) The University shall have the right not to open studies on study programmes for which less than five student candidates have confirmed their intention to enrol after the deadline of registration for studies.
- (5) The University shall inform the student candidates who have been admitted of the decision in SAIS and in DreamApply.
- (6) The list of students admitted to studies on the first level of higher education shall be published in SAIS on the date provided in the Academic Calendar. The list of students admitted to studies on the second and third level of higher education shall be published immediately after the admission results of the relevant competition have been entered into SAIS.
- (7) As of the date of receiving the admission offer, student candidates are entitled to a period of three days to confirm their intention to enrol by marking the status of application in SAIS as "confirms enrolment". If the student candidate has not entered the comment within the given time, he/she is considered to have declined the student place and a proposal for commencing studies is then made to the next candidate in the ranking list. The student candidate has three days to confirm the commencement of studies after receiving notice of a vacant student place. Fulfilling student places ends on the date provided in the Academic Calendar.
- (8) Student candidates who have fulfilled the admission requirements and have submitted a signed study agreement by the deadline (except applicants to the third level of higher education who sign the agreement in accordance with the procedure established by the University) shall be matriculated to the University.
- (9) International student candidates shall be informed on an on-going basis in DreamApply of the (conditional) acceptance decision after having fulfilled the admission requirements. Non-EU/EEA citizens shall be informed of the acceptance decision after payment of the first semester fee.

(10) The first semester fee shall be considered an advance payment and it is not refunded to persons who have not commenced studies but have acquired the right to enter the Republic of Estonia for the purpose of studies.

(11) International student candidates who have fulfilled the admission requirements and have arrived in Estonia by the deadline determined by the University, registered their arrival at the Academic Affairs Office and have signed the study agreement (except applicants to the third level of higher education who sign the agreement in accordance with the procedure established by the University) shall be matriculated to the University.

(12) On justified occasions, regarding international student candidates for the third level of higher education who have not commenced studies, the University shall have the right to:

1) at the beginning of academic year, matriculate the student candidate on the basis of valid acceptance decision until the end of academic movement during spring semester of the same academic year, as established in the Academic Calendar;

2) at the beginning of spring semester matriculate the student candidate on the basis of valid acceptance decision until the end of the same academic year;

(13) [Repealed 15.11.2021]

(14) [Repealed 15.11.2021]

§ 11. Contesting decisions related to admission

(1) The speciality-specific admission exam result may be contested by submitting a written contest to the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, no later than the following working day after the publication of exam results, with the exception of the third level study programmes where the exam result may be contested within three working days following the publication of exam results. A committee formed by the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, consisting of at least three members, and including no more than one member of the speciality-specific admission exam committee, shall review the contest. The committee shall make a justified proposal to the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, as to the satisfaction or dismissal of the contest within three working days as of the submission of the appeal. The member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, shall make a decision on the basis of the committee's proposal and the person who has submitted the contest shall be informed of the decision within five working days as of the submission of the contest. [Amended 15.11.2021]

(2) Other admission-related decisions and proceedings may be contested by submitting a contest to the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, within three working days as of the publication date of the decision or the date of conduct of the proceedings. The member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, may forward the contest for reviewing to Admission Committee for a justified proposal as to the satisfaction or dismissal of the contest. The student candidate is informed of the decision of the member of the Rectorate managing academic affairs, appointed by the Rector, within five working days as of the submission of the contest. [Amended 15.11.2021]

(3) The student candidate shall add relevant documents to the contest and include the following in the contest: [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

1) the content of the decision or procedure being contested; [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

2) explanations of why the decision or procedure being contested violates the rights of the student candidate; [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

3) a clearly defined demand of the contesteer. [Entry into force 23.11.2020]

Chapter 4

Implementation provisions

§ 12. Repeal

Annex 2

Taking into account a candidate's result of a proficiency exam in Estonian (C1) when applying to the university

The total result received for a C1 level proficiency exam in Estonian that can be used in applying to the university shall range between 60 and 100 points and the result of any separate skill shall not be 0 points.

1) A candidate who has received 76 points or more for a C1 proficiency exam in Estonian shall be granted 90 points as a replacement result, which allows admission under special conditions (special conditions that are applicable to a candidate who has taken a state exam in Estonian as a second language - Subsection 6 of Section 3 of Tallinn University Requirements and Procedure for the Admission to Degree Studies).

2) The results of a proficiency exam in Estonian ranging between 60 and 75 points shall be converted as follows:
